37	19. Where, at the start of the engagement, application of criteria established by the firm does not result in a requirement to perform an engagement quality control review, the engagement partner shall nevertheless be alert for changes in circumstances that would result in a requirement to perform such a review. 	Leadership Responsibilities for Quality on Audits (Ref: Para. 7 5)
7	A13. Providing an example regarding audit quality The actions of the engagement partner and appropriate messages to the other members of the engagement team emphasize:
	(a) The importance to audit quality of:

	(iv) The engagement team's ability to raise concerns without fear of reprisals; and	Extant paragraph 35.
	(b) The fact that quality is essential in performing audit engagements. This example may be provided through the actions of the engagement partner and through appropriate messages to the engagement team through all stages of the audit engagement.	Moved into sentence preceding the list.
	Ethical Requirements (Ref: Para. 6-88-10)
9	A 2 4. Ethical requirements relating to audit engagements ordinarily comprise Parts A and B of the IFAC Code together with national requirements that are more restrictive. The IFAC Code establishes the fundamental principles of professional ethics, which include:

	(a) Integrity;
	(b) Objectivity;
	(c) Professional competence and due care;
	(d) Confidentiality; and
	(e) Professional behavior.
10.1/10.2	A35. The engagement partner may identify issues of non-compliance with ethical requirements: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Through inquiry and observation regarding ethical matters amongst the engagement partner and other members of the engagement team as necessary throughout the audit engagement; and • By remaining alert for evidence of the engagement partner may identify issues of non-compliance with ethical requirements. 	Moved from paragraph 7 in London draft.
	Independence (Ref: Para. 910)
13	A46. The engagement partner may identify a threat to independence regarding the audit engagement that safeguards may not be able to eliminate or reduce to an acceptable level. In that case, as required by paragraph 109(c), the engagement partner consults within reports to the firm to determine appropriate action, which may include eliminating the activity or interest that creates the threat, or withdrawing from the audit engagement.
	Considerations Specific to Public Sector Entities
FN 4	A57. The independence of public sector auditors may be protected by statutory measures. However, public sector auditors or audit firms carrying out public sector audits on behalf of the statutory auditor may, depending on the terms of the mandate in a particular jurisdiction, need to adapt their approach in order to ensure—promote compliance with the spirit of paragraph 910. This may include, where the public sector auditor's mandate does not permit withdrawal from the engagement, disclosure through a public report, of circumstances that have arisen that would, if they were in the private sector, lead the auditor to withdraw.

	Acceptance and Continuance of Client Relationships and Specific Audit Engagements (Ref: Para. 11-12)
New	A6-11A. The engagement partner shall Proposed ISQC 1 (Redrafted) requires the firm to obtain such information considered necessary in the circumstances before accepting an engagement with a new client, when deciding whether to continue an existing engagement, and when considering acceptance of a new engagement with an existing client. Information such as the following helps the engagement partner to determine whether the conclusions reached regarding the acceptance and continuance of client relationships and audit engagements are appropriate. (Ref: Para. A10)	Paragraphs 11A and 10A from London draft moved back to application material and combined.
16.1	10A. Acceptance and continuance of client relationships and specific audit engagements shall include considerations such as:
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The integrity of the principal owners, key management and those charged with governance of the entity; 	•
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Whether the engagement team is competent to perform the audit engagement and has the necessary time and resources; and 	•
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Whether the firm and the engagement team can comply with ethical requirements; and 	•
17	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Significant matters that have arisen during the current or previous audit engagement, and their implications for continuing the relationship. 	First sentence from paragraph A10 below.
17	A10. Deciding whether to continue a client relationship includes consideration of significant matters that have arisen during the current or previous audit engagement, and their implications for continuing the relationship. For example, a client may have started to expand its business operations into an area where the firm does not possess the necessary knowledge or expertise.	Second sentence not considered necessary.
	Considerations Specific to Public Sector Entities
FN 3	A7-11. In the public sector, auditors may be appointed in accordance with statutory procedures. Accordingly, certain of the requirements set out in paragraphs 11-12 and considerations regarding the acceptance and continuation of client relationships and specific engagements, as set out in the application material in paragraphs A9-A10A6-A7 may not be relevant. Nonetheless, information gathered as a result of the process described may be valuable to public sector auditors in performing risk assessments and in carrying out reporting responsibilities.

	Assignment of Engagement Teams (Ref: Para. 13)
20	A812. The appropriate capabilities and competence expected of the engagement team as a whole include, for example:
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> An understanding of, and practical experience with, audit engagements of a similar nature and complexity through appropriate training and participation.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> An understanding of professional standards and regulatory and legal requirements.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Appropriate technical knowledge, including knowledge of relevant information technology.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Knowledge of relevant industries in which the client operates.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Ability to apply professional judgment.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> An understanding of the firm's quality control policies and procedures.
	Considerations Specific to Public Sector Entities
FN 5	A913. In the public sector, appropriate capabilities may include those that are necessary to discharge the terms of the audit mandate in a particular jurisdiction. Additional capabilities may be required in public sector audits, dependent upon the terms of the mandate in a particular jurisdiction. Such additional capabilities may include an understanding of the applicable reporting arrangements, including reporting to the legislature or other governing body a representative body, for example, Parliament, House of Representatives, Legislature or in the public interest. The wider scope of a public sector audit may include, for example, some aspects of performance auditing or a comprehensive assessment of compliance with legislative authorities the arrangements for ensuring legality and preventing and detecting fraud and corruption.

	Engagement Performance (Ref: Para. 14-16)
	Direction, Supervision and Performance (Ref: Para. 14)
22	A104. Direction of the engagement team involves the engagement partner directs the audit engagement by, for example, informing the members of the engagement team, either directly or indirectly, of matters such as:
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Their responsibilities, including the need to comply with relevant ethical requirements, and to plan and perform an audit with an attitude of professional skepticism as required by [proposed] ISA 200 (Revised and Redrafted), “Overall Objective of the Independent Auditor, and Concepts Relevant to an Audit of Financial Statements”.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The objectives of the work to be performed.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The nature of the entity’s business.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Risk-related issues.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Problems that may arise.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The detailed approach to the performance of the engagement.
	As required by ISA 200, the engagement team’s responsibilities include maintaining an objective state of mind and an appropriate level of professional skepticism, and performing the work delegated to them in accordance with the ethical principle of due care. Discussion among members of the engagement team allows less experienced team members to raise questions with more experienced team members so that appropriate communication can occur within the engagement team.
23	A115. It is important that all members of the engagement team understand the objectives of the work to be performed. Appropriate teamwork and training assist less experienced members of the engagement team to clearly understand the objectives of the assigned work.
24	A126. Supervision includes, for example:
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Tracking the progress of the audit engagement.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Considering the capabilities and competence of individual members of the engagement team, whether they have sufficient time to carry out their work, whether they understand their instructions, and whether the work is being carried out in accordance with the planned approach to the audit engagement.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Addressing significant issues arising during the audit engagement, considering their significance and modifying the planned approach appropriately.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Identifying matters for consultation or consideration by more experienced engagement team members during the audit engagement. (extant para 24, changed)
	Review (Ref: Para. 15)
25	A13 15 . Review responsibilities, shall be determined on the basis that the work of a less experienced team member is reviewed by a more experienced team members, including the engagement partner, shall review work performed by less experienced team members. Reviewers shall consider whether include whether:	Was included in the London draft as a requirement in paragraph 15. Was not a requirement in extant ISA 220.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) The work has been performed in accordance with professional standards and regulatory and legal requirements;
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> (b) Significant matters have been raised for further consideration;
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> (c) Appropriate consultations have taken place and the resulting conclusions have been documented and implemented;
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> (d) There is a need to revise the nature, timing and extent of work performed;
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> (e) The work performed supports the conclusions reached and is appropriately documented;
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> (f) The evidence obtained is sufficient and appropriate to support the auditor's report; and
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> (g) The objectives of the engagement procedures have been achieved. (Ref: Para. A18)
27	A14 7 . Timely reviews of the following by the engagement partner at appropriate stages during the engagement allow significant matters to be resolved on a timely basis

	to the engagement partner's satisfaction before the auditor's report is issued; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The reviews cover, in particular, eCritical areas of judgment, especially those relating to difficult or contentious matters identified during the course of the engagement; • sSignificant risks; and • eOther areas the engagement partner considers important. The engagement partner need not review all audit documentation, but may do so. However, as required by [proposed] ISA 230 (Redrafted), "Audit Documentation", the partner documents the extent and timing of the reviews. Issues arising from the reviews are resolved to the satisfaction of the engagement partner.	Deleted as this is covered by third bullet in A13 – not necessary to repeat.
28	A158. Reviewing the work performed to the date of the change allows a new engagement partner taking over an audit to satisfy himself or herself that the work performed to the date of the review has been planned and performed in accordance with professional standards and regulatory and legal requirements.
29	A19. Where more than one partner is involved in the conduct of an audit engagement, it is important that the responsibilities of the respective partners are clearly defined and understood by the engagement team.	Elevated to a requirement – see paragraph 16.
	Consultation (Ref: Para. 17)
31	A1620. Effective consultation within the firm or, where applicable, outside the firm can be achieved when those consulted:
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Are given all the relevant facts that will enable them to provide informed advice on technical, ethical or other matters.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Have appropriate knowledge, seniority and experience.
32	A1721. It may be appropriate for the engagement team to consult outside the firm, for example, where the firm lacks appropriate internal resources. They may take advantage of advisory services provided by other firms, professional and regulatory bodies, or commercial organizations that provide relevant quality control services.

	Engagement Quality Control Review (Ref: Para. 18-19 ²⁰)
39.1	A23. An engagement quality control review involves, for example: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Discussion with the engagement partner; • A review of the financial information and the auditor's report, and consideration of whether the auditor's report is appropriate; and A review of selected audit documentation relating to the significant judgments the engagement team made and the conclusions they reached.	Moved detail to paragraph 19.
39.2	A18. The extent of the engagement quality control review depends on the complexity of the audit engagement and the risk that the auditor's report might not be appropriate in the circumstances. The review does not reduce the responsibilities of the engagement partner.	Elevated to paragraph 19.
40	A19²⁴.An engagement quality control review for audits of financial statements of listed entities includes, for example, considerationing, for example of the following:	The IAASB questioned whether this should be elevated. The TF believes that this is an expansion of the requirement in paragraph 19, therefore haven't changed it. Certain bullet points, as noted below, have been elevated, as the TF believed them to be requirements.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The engagement team's evaluation of the firm's independence in relation to the specific audit engagement. 	Elevated to requirement in paragraph 19.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Significant risks identified during the engagement (in accordance with ISA 315 (Redrafted), "Identifying and Assessing the Risks of Material Misstatement Through Understanding the Entity and I^{ts} Environment"), and the responses to those risks (in accordance with ISA 330 (Redrafted) , “The Auditor’s Responses to Assessed Risks”), including the engagement team’s assessment of, and response to, the risk of fraud.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Judgments made, particularly with respect to materiality and significant risks.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Whether appropriate consultation has taken place on matters involving differences of opinion or other difficult or contentious matters, and the conclusions arising from those consultations. 	Elevated to requirement in paragraph 19.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The significance and disposition of corrected and uncorrected misstatements identified during the audit.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The matters to be communicated to management and those charged with governance and, where applicable, other parties such as regulatory bodies.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Whether audit documentation selected for review reflects the work performed in relation to the significant judgments and supports the conclusions reached. 	Elevated to requirement in paragraph 19.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The appropriateness of the auditor’s report to be issued. 	Repeats 19(d), therefore not necessary.
	Engagement quality control reviews for audits of historical financial information other than audits of financial statements of listed entities may, depending on the circumstances, include some or all of these considerations.
37	A2019. Where, Remaining alert for changes in circumstances allows the engagement partner to identify situations in which an engagement quality control review is necessary, even though at the start of the engagement, application of criteria established by the firm does not result in a requirement to perform such an engagement quality control review was not required, the engagement partner shall nevertheless be alert for changes in circumstances that would result in a requirement to perform such a review.	Was requirement in London draft (paragraph 19), however on review, the TF concluded that this should be application material.
	Considerations Specific to Public Sector Entities
FN 1	A215. With limited exceptions, there is no public sector

	equivalent of “listed entities,” are not common in the public sector, however, there may be other although there may be audits of particularly significant public sector entities which that are significant due to size, complexity or media and public interest aspects, and which consequently have a wide range of stakeholders. Examples may include state owned corporations, public utilities and crown corporations. Ongoing transformations within the public sector may also give rise to new types of significant entities. There are no fixed objective criteria on which the determination of significance is based. Nonetheless, public sector auditors evaluate which entities may be of sufficient significance to warrant performance of an engagement quality control review. subject to the listed entity requirement of engagement quality control review. There are no fixed objective criteria on which this determination of significance should be based. However, such an assessment may encompass an evaluation of all factors relevant to the audited entity. Such factors include size, complexity, commercial risk, parliamentary or media interest and the number and range of stakeholders affected.
FN 2	A226. In the public sector, many jurisdictions a single statutorily appointed a Auditor General, or other suitably qualified person appointed on behalf of the Auditor General, may act in a role equivalent to that of engagement partner with overall responsibility for public sector audits. In such circumstances, where applicable, the selection of engagement reviewer includes consideration of the need for independence from the audited entity and the ability to provide an objective evaluation and objectivity.
	Differences of Opinion (Ref: Para. 21)
35	A27. As necessary, the engagement partner informs members of the engagement team that they may bring matters involving differences of opinion to the attention of the engagement partner or others within the firm as appropriate without fear of reprisals.	Included in paragraph A1.
	Monitoring (Ref: Para. 21 2)
42	A23 8 . A deficiency in the firm’s system of quality control does not necessarily indicate that a particular audit engagement was not performed in accordance with professional standards and regulatory and legal requirements, or that the auditor's report was not appropriate.

	Documentation (Ref: Para. 22)
33	A 24 ²² .Documentation of consultations with other professionals that involve difficult or contentious matters that is sufficiently complete and detailed contributes to an understanding of:
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The issue on which consultation was sought; and
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The results of the consultation, including any decisions taken, the basis for those decisions and how they were implemented.
	Documentation that is agreed by both the individual seeking consultation and the individual consulted reflects the results of the consultation.	Covered by paragraph 17(c) therefore not necessary to repeat.
