

Audits of Less Complex Entities (LCEs)*Proportionality of the ISAs to the International Standard on Auditing for Financial Statements of Less Complex Entities (ISA for LCE)*Parts 7 – 9 of the ISA for LCE

This document ('mapping') has been provided to illustrate how the requirements from the ISAs have been included (or not) within the ISA for LCE.

1. In developing the ISA for LCE, the objectives and requirements of the International Standards on Auditing (ISA) have been "mapped" to the objectives and requirements within the ISA for LCE, to illustrate the proportionality of the ISAs to an audit of an LCE.
2. This agenda item (together with Agenda Item 4-B(1)) is provided to illustrate how the specific requirements within the ISAs have or have not been addressed within the ISA for LCE. There is also a brief supporting description with regard to how the ISA for LCE 'aligns' to the ISAs (in the last column of the table).
3. 'Alignment principles' have been developed to help explain why an ISA requirement has been modified or not included in the ISA for LCE. These alignment principles have been used to describe how each ISA requirement has (or has not) been addressed in the ISA for LCE. The alignment principles include:
  - a) Whether the requirement is relevant in the circumstances of an audit of an LCE, and if not, why not.
  - b) If applicable, why the requirement has been changed to make it more relevant to the circumstances of an LCE.
  - c) If applicable, whether any changes made for the purpose of the ISA for LCE would still result in requirements meeting the objectives for each Part and therefore that the auditor's procedures would still enable the objectives to be met and reasonable assurance to be achieved.

If a requirement has not been included and the explanation provided in (a), then (b) and (c) have not been addressed as there would be no further changes to that requirement. "(c)" is intended to address that the changes in (b).

4. Standards have been presented within this mapping document in ISA order mapped to the relevant requirement within ISA for LCE. Any essential explanatory material added to ISA for LCE is shown in the ISA for LCE column (at the end of the relevant ISA) but the application material in the ISA has not been presented.

5. This mapping is set out in the table below and includes the ISAs most relevant to Parts 7–9 of the ISA for LCE and covers the following ISAs:
- Part 7—ISA 240, ISA 250 (Revised), ISA 265, ISA 330, ISA 501, ISA 505, ISA 540 (Revised), ISA 550
  - Part 8—ISA 450, ISA 560, ISA 570 (Revised), ISA 580
  - Part 9—ISA 700 (Revised), ISA 705 (Revised), ISA 706 (Revised), ISA 710, ISA 720 (Revised)
- Agenda Item 4-B(1) includes the ‘mapping’ for the other ISAs most relevant to Parts 1-6 of the ISA for LCE. ISA 402 (limited requirements) are included in this document.
6. The ‘mapping’ in Agenda Items 4-B(1) and 4-B(2) (in the ISA column) reflect the most recently approved ISAs, including ISA 315 (Revised 2019) and ISA 220 (Revised), and conforming and consequential amendments to other standards, and the amendments to the IAASB Standards as a result of revisions made to the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants’ (IESBA) Code.<sup>1</sup>
7. These mapping documents do not include mapping for standards that are not included in ISA for LCE, including ISA 600,<sup>2</sup> ISA 610 (Revised 2013)<sup>3</sup> and ISA 701.<sup>4</sup>

				auditor is concerned with fraud that causes a material misstatement in the financial statements.
Application Material	ISA 240 Paragraphs 5 and 6 Introduction	Paragraph 2.4.2. Concepts and Matters Underlying Gathering Audit Evidence Fraud	-	An auditor conducting an audit in accordance with the ISA for LCE is responsible for obtaining reasonable assurance that the financial statements taken as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or error. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than the risk of not detecting one resulting from error. This is because fraud may involve sophisticated and carefully organized schemes designed to conceal it, such as forgery, deliberate failure to record transactions, or intentional misrepresentations being made to the auditor.	Essential Explanatory Material
Application Material	ISA 240 Paragraph 8 Introduction	Paragraph 2.4.3. Concepts and Matters Underlying Gathering Audit Evidence	-	When obtaining reasonable assurance, the auditor is responsible for maintaining professional skepticism throughout the audit, considering	Essential Explanatory Material

The control environment provides a foundation for the operation of the other components of the entity's internal control system. The control environment does not directly prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements. It may, however, influence the effectiveness of controls in the other components of the entity's internal control system. Therefore, an effective control environment may allow the auditor to have more confidence in internal control and the reliability of audit evidence generated internally within the entity. Deficiencies that have been identified in the control environment when obtaining an understanding of the entity's internal control system, however, have the opposite effect and may result in the need for more extensive audit evidence from substantive procedures. A weak control environment also impacts the work that may be undertaken at an interim period.

Accordingly, similar to responses to inquiries, written representations are audit evidence. Although written representations provide necessary audit evidence, they do not provide sufficient appropriate audit evidence on their own about any of the matters with which they deal. Furthermore, the fact that management has provided reliable written representations does not affect the nature or extent of other audit evidence that the auditor obtains about the fulfillment of management's responsibilities, or about specific assertions.	Essential Explanatory Material
