Guide for Respondents

Comments are requested by July 24, 2025.

This template is for providing comments on the Exposure Draft (ED) of proposed Narrow-Scope Amendments to International Auditing and Assurance Standards Board® (IAASB®) Standards Arising from the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' (IESBA) Using the Work of an External Expert project, in response to the questions set out in the Explanatory Memorandum (EM) to the ED. It also allows for respondent details, demographics and other comments to be provided. Use of the template will facilitate the IAASB's automated collation of the responses.

You may respond to all questions or only selected questions.

To assist our consideration of your comments, please:

- For each question, start by indicating your overall response using the drop-down menu under each question. Then below that include any detailed comments, as indicated.
- When providing comments:
 - Respond directly to the questions.
 - Provide the rationale for your answers. If you disagree with the proposals in the ED, please provide specific reasons for your disagreement and specific suggestions for changes that may be needed to the requirements, application material or appendices. If you agree with the proposals, it will be helpful for the IAASB to be made aware of this view.
 - Identify the specific aspects of the ED that your response relates to, for example, by reference to sections, headings or specific paragraphs in the ED.
 - Avoid inserting tables or text boxes in the template when providing your responses to the questions because this will complicate the automated collation of the responses.
- Submit your comments, using the response template only, without a covering letter or any summary of your key issues, instead identify any key issues, as far as possible, in your responses to the questions.

The response template provides the opportunity to provide details about your organization and, should you choose to do so, any other matters not raised in specific questions that you wish to place on the public record. All responses will be considered a matter of public record and will ultimately be posted on the IAASB website.

Use the “Submit Comment” button on the ED web page to upload the completed template.

Overall Question

Public Interest Responsiveness

1. Do you agree that the proposed narrow-scope amendments are responsive to the public interest, considering the qualitative standard-setting characteristics and standard-setting actions in the project proposal? If not, why not?

(See EM, Section 1-A)

Overall response: Agree, with comments below

Detailed comments (if any):

We support the International Auditing and Assurance Standard Board's (IAASB) issuance of this exposure draft proposing narrow-scope amendments arising from the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountant's' (IESBA) project. We agree it is in the public interest to maintain interoperability of the IAASB standards with the new provisions of the IESBA Code related to using the work of an external expert.

However, we continue to encourage the IAASB to coordinate with the IESBA throughout the finalization and implementation of the amendments. We believe there are risks related to inconsistent implementation of the new revisions in the IESBA Code related to using the work of an external expert by auditors (refer to our response to question 4 below) should the IAASB and IESBA not be closely aligned and provide auditors with appropriate implementation guidance. Doing so should help auditors avoid unnecessary scope limitations, which better serves the public interest overall.

Detailed comments (if any):

Coordination with IESBA in providing implementation guidance

We believe there are risks from an implementation perspective if the IAASB is not closely aligned with the IESBA in providing guidance to assist auditors in operationalizing the new requirements in the IESBA Code. This implementation guidance could be FAQs or other materials.

Specifically, we have concerns about the ability of auditors and practitioners to consistently implement paragraphs R390.5 and R390.12-17 of the IESBA Code. We foresee that acquiring financial interest and relationship information from external experts in writing may be challenging. If an external expert is unwilling to provide such information, this could result in a scope limitation affecting the auditor's or practitioner's report or have a detrimental effect on engagement quality, including the auditor's or practitioner's inability to engage an external expert.

Appropriate guidance for the auditor or practitioner on the nature of the information to obtain, the options for obtaining it and how to approach situations when such information cannot be obtained, including scenarios when scope limitations may occur, would facilitate consistency in implementation and avoid unintended consequences, such as those that could arise from unnecessary scope limitations.

Consider similar implementation guidance for ISSA 5000

Although not within the scope of this exposure draft, we believe that implementation guidance to assist practitioners in operationalizing the new requirements in the IESBA Code will be equally, if not more important, for sustainability assurance engagements, where the use of external experts is expected to be more prevalent. Therefore, we suggest the IAASB also consider developing implementation guidance for ISSA 5000 engagements.

Part C: Request for General Comments

The IAASB is also seeking comments on the matters set out below:

5. Translations—Recognizing that many respondents may intend to translate the final narrow-scope amendments for adoption in their own environments, the IAASB welcomes comment on potential translation issues respondents note in reviewing the ED.

Overall response: No response

Detailed comments (if any):

6. Effective Date—Given the public interest benefit of aligning the effective date of these proposed narrow-scope amendments with the effective date of the revised Code provisions related to using the work of an external expert, the IAASB believes that an appropriate implementation period would be approximately 12 months after the PIOB's process of certification of the final narrow-scope amendments. The IAASB welcomes comments on whether this would provide a sufficient period to support effective implementation of the narrow-scope amendments.

(See EM, Section 1-G)

Overall response: See comments on effective date below

Detailed comments (if any):

We agree that the effective date of the proposed amendments to the IAASB standards should be aligned with the effective date of the revised IESBA Code provisions.

We believe that an effective date for periods beginning on or after 15 December 2026 would provide a sufficient period to support effective implementation if the final pronouncement is approved as targeted by December 2025.
